PECULATIONS OF $250,000.

More Stealing and Forgery Charged to N. C. Dougherty.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 12.--N. C. Dougherty realized $18,000 in three years by using the name of A. H. Andrews & Co., of Chicago. This fact was developed before the grand jury yesterday when H. J. Merle, secretary of the company, testified before the grand jury. While the business done by the school board with the firm had been comparatively limited for two years or more, Dougherty's use of the firm name in forging checks and school script has been almost unlimited. The grand jury reported to the State's attorney yesterday they would report at least 24 more cases against Dougherty, all of a serious character. The latest estimate placed on his peculations by means of added payrolls places the amount at $250,000.

A COMMUNICATION FROM RICKERT & WELLS.

They Offer to Refund Money if Hyomei Does Not Cure Cataract.

To the Editor of the Times:

We have been asked recently if the advertisements printed in your columns regarding Hyomei were true where we offer to refund the money if this treatment does not cure cataract. We wish you would please print this letter in as conspicuous a place as possible in your paper, saying that we absolutely agree to refund the money to any purchaser of a Hyomei outfit if it does not cure cataract.

This outfit consists of an inhaler of a convenient size to be carried in the vest pocket so that the user can breathe Hyomei four or five times daily. With this is included a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The outfit sells for $1.00 and is a most economical treatment, for the inhaler lasts a lifetime and there is enough Hyomei for several weeks' use, while extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents.

We trust this letter will settle any doubts that may have arisen as to our willingness to refund the money for a Hyomei outfit in case the purchaser is not perfectly satisfied.

We wish to say emphatically that our guarantee on Hyomei holds good, and we will refund the money to any dissatisfied purchaser who simply states that he has used the treatment according to directions and not been helped. Respectfully yours, Rickert & Wells, Red Cross Pharmacy.

With no apparent reason the horse took the bits in its teeth and ran with great speed through Walnut street and across Main street into some stone steps, throwing Mrs. Estey violently to the ground.
